

One More Time

Romanthony/Romanthony

There always seems to be a door that you can't open
There always seems to be a mountain you can't climb

    But you keep on reaching
    You just keep on reaching

When your destiny is out there in the distance
But the road ahead's a mine field in disguise

    And you keep on moving
    You just keep on moving

You will make it through this
    Just give it time
    You gotta give it time

This is what you're made for
    Standing in the downpour
Knowing that the sun will shine
    Forget what lies behind you

Heaven walks beside you
You got to give it one more try
    One more time

    You just keep on reaching
    You just keep on, you keep on moving

When the shadows fall on everything you're dreaming
When the promises turn out to be a lie
    You just keep believing
    You just keep believing
Oh, don't stop your dreaming
    It's gonna be alright
    It's gonna be alright
You've got to keep on reaching
    Keep believing
    It's gonna be alright
