Doorway

The Graduates

Waiting for him to ascend
With a knock on his door
Skies diluted love for sale
To reach the shore
In his eyes semi open
Two little waves unspoken
Waiting for the tide to unfold
His silver and goldSee you beyond the sea
Wonder who we could be
Somewhere beyond the sea
There's a place for you and meWe braved the seasons hand in hand
Sung forever more
Creeping through the vines of hell
And heaven knocking on our door
In my eyes semi open
Two little waves unspoken
Waiting for the ride to explore
My silver and goldSee you beyond the sea
Wonder who we could be
Somewhere beyond the sea
There's a place for you and meSing along this ordinary tune
Sway for my song beneath the moon
Give in to the stream no need to wait
You and I will kiss again in a doorway
