

Searching for My Chance

Tabea

So many times I saw you waiting for the train
You looked so dreamy while you stood there lost in your thoughts
You did not notice all the things that happened close to you
You never noticed me and never sent a smile
My love, where have you gone to, I feel so alone
I love you so, my dear, I can't express with words

Did you move or are you sick? My love for you is plain and big.
I was never searching for my chance, now I scold myself
Why I hesitated so, maybe 'cause you would say "no".
I was never searching for my chance, now - now I scold myself

In my dreams I heard you talk with a tender voice
All I hear now are the trains and people speaking
On the platform strangers hurry, do not see my pain
I asked God, why have you disappeared from me
My love, where have you gone to, I feel so alone
I love you so, my dear, I can't express with words

Did you move or are you sick? My love for you is plain and big.
I was never searching for my chance, now I scold myself
Why I hesitated so, maybe 'cause you would say "no".
I was never searching for my chance, now - now I scold myself

Did you move or are you sick? My love for you is plain and big
I was never searching for my chance, now I scold myself
Why I hesitated so, maybe 'cause you would say "no".
I was never searching for my chance, now - now I scold myself
