

Straight From My Heart

Richard Marx

The sun's still warm and most days are good
The world still turns like you said it would
But this pain seems to never let me go
And there is really no movin' on, there's only going along
And I will always be, better for you loving me
Better for the times we shared that travel with me everywhere
And I will always try, to hold my head up to the sky
If only just to let you know, that straight from my heart
I still miss you so
If I could I would gladly trade
A thousand tomorrows for one yesterday
There are so many things that I would say
You're a part of every memory, that lives on in me
And I will always be, better for you loving me
Better for the times we shared that travel with me everywhere
And I will always try, to hold my head up to the sky
If only just to let you know, that straight from my heart
I still miss you so
