

It All Depends

Eric Clapton

So you think you are something special
I wonder why baby is that so?
Could admit you are something special
Won't you tell me girl? I'd love to know
Yes, I've seen you with your other girlfriends
I can tell they really think you're fine
And I've seen you with your other men friends
They don't know if you're a love of mine
It all depends on how you feel, baby
I've got to know just how you feel, baby
(How you feel?) It all depends on how you feel, baby
I've got to know just how you feel, baby
It all depends on how you feel, baby
I've got to know just how you feel, baby
'Cause you've taken away
The only thing I've ever ever had
Don't you know that I loved you?
Why'd you make me feel bad?
The only thing I ever loved
Was loving you
So you think you are something special
I wonder why baby is that so?
Could admit you are something special
Won't you tell me girl? I'd love to know
It all depends on how you feel, baby
I've got to know just how you feel, baby
It all depends on how you feel, baby
I've got to know just how you feel, baby
(How you feel?) So you think you are
(Something special)
What makes you think you are?
(Something special)
(Something special)
