

Final Hour

Vivian Green

I loved you, just too much
You owned my emotions
Devoted, completely
You had me, I couldn't see
No one else, by myself
I remained through the pain
You were all that mattered
But now I know there's better
So I walked away
As it rained down my face
I turned away
From the pain of hurting me
I gave you full control
My mind, my body soul
Confusion, delusions
Untruthful, unfaithful
Weighed down my self-esteem
Never again will I give
My power, to be me
And be free, now I see
So I walked away
As it rained down my face
I turned away
From the pain of hurting me
