Sunflower

Tonic

All I want is to be your sunflower
To watch over you from up high
When the wind blows
I will kiss you like sunshine
Stealing pieces from a perfect sky
'Cause here you go again
'Cause here you go again
And they say, that it really doesn't matter
Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway, alright
I'm not asking to be more than your lover
I'm not asking to be more than a friend
I'm not asking anything that I shouldn't
To bring everything we know to an end
'Cause here you go again
'Cause here you go again
And they say, that it really doesn't matter
Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway
'Cause here you go
And I wanted to be your lover
But you're pushing me under cover
I wanted to be your lover
But you're pushing me down
Pushing me down under covers, yeah
Because here you go again
And they say, that it really doesn't matter
Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway
That it really doesn't matter
Anyway, alright
