

Never Fade

Jack Johnson

It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you
It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you When I first saw
You come across the room
And then you saw me
Did not know what to do I tried to play it cool
And attach no strings
But by the end of the day
I needed the whole thing It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you
It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you You see I knew right then
That this could last so long
I went home that night
I wrote my first love song And as the days went by
I knew I had it made
Well, you could try to pretend
Your smile gave it away It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you
It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you And now here we are
How could we ever know?
I knew I loved you then
And I've watched you grow And so it came to be
That I raised you and you raised me
We're lucky that way
Because our love can never fade No, our love can never fade
Our love will never fade
Our love can never fade It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you
Never fade
It feels good to be the one that you want
When all I want is you
Never fade
All I want is you
Never fade
All I want is you
Never fade

When all I want is you
