

Everything

Nine Inch Nails

I survived everything
I have tried everything
everything, everything
(and anything) All the walls begin to solve away
Do your hands begin to shake, to shake, to shake, to shake, to shake?
And just who d'you think you used to be?
All begins to burn, to break, to break, to break Wave goodbye
Wish me well
I've become something else
Something else
Something else
Just as well But this thing that lives inside of me
Will surely rise awake, awake, awake, awake, awake
And the seed that breaks right through to me
And it comes to grab and take, and take, and take, and take I am home
I believe
I am home
I am free
I am home
I can see
Always here
Finally I am home
I believe
I am home
I am free
