

The Lover's Song

Eidolwylde

You light my way by night with the moon and her stories
On this boundless fight, I know I can't give in, I can't lose sight

Oh, oh, oh, we've already won
We can't give in, we can't lose sight
Oh, oh, oh, we've already won
We've chosen love and the lover's song

And I, I know my heart, through death I would bear my lover's story
On this ageless dream, where time is gone and we shall sing the lover's song

And you, you send me stars to guide my way
But I, I'll still sing through the night til the full light of day

Oh, oh, oh, we've already won
We can't give in, we can't lose sight
Oh, oh, oh, we've already won
We've chosen love and the lover's song

I'll whisper words to the lover's song into your ear til the night is gone
I'll set you as a seal upon my arm, my love for you goes on
And I'll walk with you in the cool of the day til the shadows of night all flee away
I'll set you as a seal upon my arm, my love for you goes on
And I'll make a vow of eternal love, woven be the thread of crimson blood
I'll set you as a seal upon my arm, my love for you goes on
And I'll show love that's stronger than death, it cannot be thwarted it cannot be quenched
I'll set you as a seal upon my arm, my love for you goes on, oh, oh, oh
