Aggression

Front Line Assembly

Sickening, the things that I see
Can't stop my mind from slowly wandering
Dreamin' again, I think you're with me
But there is where the thinking ends
Sleep time, no longer
Looks like it's over
Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
Sorry, the pain seems endless
Lie still, I'll soon be done with you
Till then, you're left to deal with torture
I'm sure, in time you've gotten used to it
Constant controller
Your life is over
I'm takin' pride in my work as you bleed
Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
I'm left to deal with my conscience
Forgive me now
I have to finish the * I started
Not what I wanted
Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
Took your wrist and cut it open
And now it seems I'm throwing you over the edge
We had a gift no one had
You never thought I'd be cutting you open again
