Abduction

Ovens

I wake in sweat, you've come to steal my life away
Some strange electric glow of artificial day
The power breakers close, the grid of darkness falls
Shining, gleaming, black as night, burning all the lightWhat do you want from me?
I sense your mastery
There's something you won't ever findSo have your way with me
This prisoner is never free
Rip me up, leave me behindAre you the truth to sit in judgement on my sins?
Evil laser gadgets come to penetrate my skin
The hanging judge is open and I'm damned before his eyes
Another genesis that failed, how many more have tried?What do you want from me?
I sense your mastery
There's something you won't ever findSo have your way with me
This prisoner is never free
Rip me up, leave me behindAnd so the story goes I dreamt this long ago
Highways hidden in the sand reveal the truths I know
They took my worthless heart and spat it through their eyes
Abduction means the end for me, a million years of miseryWhat do you want from me?
I sense your mastery
There's something you won't ever findSo have your way with me
This soldier's lost his victory
Rip me up, leave me behind
