

Brandon

William Fitzsimmons

I could love you
I would sew the seeds again
If you take down
Your justified defense If they chase you
'Cause you are not the same
I will run too
And call you by your name Have I only let you down
May I lay beside you now In the backyard, where they tore your clothes away
So you scrubbed at the blood to wash away Have I only let you down
May I lay beside you now Have I only let you down
May I lay beside you now
