These Things I've Done

Sleeping With Sirens | www.AudioCastle.net

Oh yeah!I've been thinking now for a while
That you have got exactly what I need
When I see you stop and turning around
Goddamn, you got me shaking in my teethI can't afford...
The kind of love you sell
But I can't afford to ever watch you leave
Won't you come and put your sugar on my tongue
You got your spell on meAnd how could I leave this life to another one?
Take back, take back those things that I said
And how could I lose your heart to another one?
Take back, take back those things I've doneI'm the only one who knows
The secret places that the light don't show
You know
WOAH!I can't afford the kind of love you own
But I sure as hell can't ever let you go
Every time I start to tell you no
Then you go and take off all your clothesAnd how could I leave this life to another one?
Take back...
And how could I leave your heart to another one?
Take back...Those things I've done
Yeah!I know what no one else knows
Sure as hell can't ever let you go
No I won't let you goMOVE!And how could I leave this life to another one?Take back, take back those things that I said
How could I lose your heart to another one?Take back, take back those things I've done
