Girlfriend

Hungover

(Verse)

I heard you cheat on your boyfriend
I've heard that he doesn't care
Because he's cheating on you too
And you are unaware

I heard that nobody likes you
Because it's fucked up and weird
The way you get so close to people
And then you disappear

(Chorus)

Your love is like bad poetry
Poorly written but I know what you mean
Your kiss is like bad medicine
I know it's poison but I always give in
Your touch is like electric shock
Paralyzing and I tend to stop in my tracks
Every time you come back

(Verse)

I heard you still fucking hate me
(Still fucking hate me)
That you wish I would die
(Wish I would die)
But that's okay because I hate you too
Even after all this time

I really wish things were different
I really wish things had changed
But we're still so goddamned stuck
That we will always stay the same
(Stay the same)

(Chorus)

Your love is like bad poetry

Poorly written but I know what you mean
Your kiss is like bad medicine
I know it's poison but I always give in
Your touch is like electric shock
Paralyzing and I tend to stop in my tracks
Every time you come back

(Bridge)

It just goes to show that no matter what you do
Something bad will always catch up to you
It just goes to show that no matter what you do
Something bad will always catch up to you
(It will always catch up to you)
(It will always catch up to you)
(It will always catch up to you)
I gave up, I gave in
Now I lay in this bed made for myself

(Chorus)

Your love is like bad poetry
Poorly written but I know what you mean
Your kiss is like bad medicine
I know it's poison but I always give in
Your touch is like electric shock
Paralyzing and I tend to stop in my tracks
Every time you come back

(I'll bet you say I'm lonely)
(I'll bet you say I'm lonely)
