Midnight Train

Barry McGuire

Take the kids, your heart, twenty dollars from your pocketbook
Take a plane, a car and don't worry 'bout how you look
'Cause I don't care, I see more than physical
I am here waiting on you, you're beautiful
Get on that midnight train to Georgia
And I'll be there with open arms waiting on ya, waiting for you
Yes, on that midnight train to Georgia
And I'll be there with arms open wide waiting for ya

Take a bag, a lunch and CD of your favorite song
Take a change for once, you know you've been waiting so long
I don't care what you look like in the physical
'Cause it's your heart and to me that makes you beautiful
So get on that midnight, on that midnight train to Georgia
I'll be there with open arms waiting for ya
On that midnight train to Georgia
I'll be there with open arms, I'll be waiting for ya if you need me
