Life On Earth

Dala

Iâ€™ve been trying to paint a masterpiece
But Iâ€™ve been colouring all the wrong things We all fall down and skin our knees
Just keep running, let it bleed Because youâ€™re already a masterpiece

Well I could have stayed here and I could have gone home
I could be with you or I could be alone
I could cry a river, I could write a song I could get the whole world to sing along I could have stayed here and I could have stayed home.

But weâ€™re not fallen angels,
ruined by the grass growing tall when we find thereâ€™s life on earth after all,
after all.
La la la la la la
La la la la la la

Iâ€™ve been talking to myself, but I donâ€™t make sense
I canâ€™t live on both sides of the fence
I canâ€™t make you happy, or hold your hand
And I donâ€™t want to be my own best friend Talking to myself, but I donâ€™t make sense

But weâ€™re not fallen angels,
ruined by the grass growing tall
when we find thereâ€™s life on earth after all,
after all.
La la la la la la
La la la la la la

Iâ€™ve been trying to paint a masterpiece
Iâ€™ve been trying to paint a masterpiece
Iâ€™ve been trying to paint a masterpiece
La la la la la la
La la la la la la
La la la la la la

But weâ€™re not fallen angels,

ruined by the grass growing tall
when we find thereâ€™s life on earth after all,
No weâ€™re not fallen angels
ruined by the grass growing tall
when we find thereâ€™s life on earth after all,
La la la la la la
La la la la la la
