I Need a Man

Muddy Magnolias

I know I said I'm a grown ass woman babe
But being grown ain't gonna warm this bed
Well sometimes I get a little lonely baby
I need a little shelter to rest my head
Well sometimes I get a little tired
Trying to be a strong ass woman every door that I walk through
And it gets a little old walkin into an empty house at night
I just need someone I can turn to
And that's why

I need a man
Ooh
Who can let me be the woman I am
Who understands
Ooh
That even rock can be broken down to sand
I need a man
Cause sometimes you need a stronger hand
I need a man
Ooh
I do

I know a little old lady that lives down on the corner house
She just sits there in her rocking chair
And no one comes by to check up on her
Not even on Sundays
And good god, that's makes me so damn scared
And that's why

I need a man
Ooh
Who can let me be the woman I am
Who understands
Ooh
That even rock can be broken down to sand
I need a man
Cause sometimes you need a stronger hand
I need a man
Ooh

I do

I need a man
Ooh
Who can let me be the woman I am
Who understands
That a rock can be broken down to sand
I need a man
Cause sometimes you need a stronger hand
I need a man
I do

I need a man
Yes I do
