

Tipperary Boy

CoCo and The Butterfields

You know how folks say it hit me from nowhere
Well if it's true then I've still got a bruise right across my face
We didn't have a clue or know about each other
I'm pretty sure that even sherlock holmes couldn't solve your case
You left me animated by a smile I can't forget
And we're telling stories to the ones that we have never met
Where in this world will we find ourselves sailing next
If our little boat should drift then maybe we'll just fly away
Ohhhh oh wey oh wey oh
Ohhhh wey oh Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh)
Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh) Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhh ohh But most of all we sing So what's a spark when you're staring into someone else's sun?
Were you dark but subconsciously you're lighting up my way
Could you not tell when I would drive and drive and drive to pick you up?
You couldn't make a time so I would just say pick any other day
Oh it's a wonder, it's a joy, my very own tipperary boy
I tell him things only he can hear, words said only for his ears
And when we've said all there is to say we'll turn to tune to end the day
The only thing that I can't stand is whether to return to his home land
Ohhhh oh wey oh wey oh
Ohhhh oh wey oh wey oh
Ohhhh wey oh Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh)
Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh) Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhh ohh But most of all we sing Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhhhhhh ohh Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh)
Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh)
Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh)
Well sometimes we fly, holding hands and we walk, and we cry and we weep and we dance
(Ohhhh wey oh) Ohhhh ohh
Ohhhh ohh But most of all we sing
