

All of the Same Blood (Unity)

Kreator

See them all marching beyond the horizon of hate
Bound by an ancient curse, annihilate
Nothing will break them apart
No sign of fear ever touches their hearts
So they endure side by side
Brothers in spirit their trust and their faith their bloodline All of the same blood, all of the same blood
Legions forgotten by the Gods See them all marching towards the final frontier
Fantasies killed by realities, cold atmosphere
Ambitions to purify
Cleansing all cast out, dehumanize
Destroy all that crosses their path
Armies of totalitarian psychopaths All of the same blood, all of the same blood
Legions forgotten by the Gods Is this what dystopia breeds
Within the darkest beliefs?
Taking utopia away
Distorted truth lead you astray
With time you will come to see
Deprived of the hope that was built on unity Unity, unity And as the darkness fades, metropolis awakes
Another empty day in lives so dark and grey
And words of propaganda hammered in their heads
Consumer's swastikas to put some life into the dead Nothing will break them apart
No sign of fear ever touches their hearts
So they endure side by side
Brothers in spirit their trust and their faith their bloodline All of the same blood, all of the same blood
Legions forgotten by the Gods
Of the same blood, of the same blood
