

The Golden Age

Woodkid

Walking through the fields of gold
In the distance, bombs can fall
Boy we're running free
Facing light in the flow
In the cherry trees
We're hiding from the wold
But the golden age is over (2x) Boy, we're dancing through the snow
The waters freeze
The wind blows
Did you ever feel
We're falling as we grow
No I would not believe
The lights could ever go
The golden age is over (2x) Listen, I can hear the call
As I'm walking through the door
Did you ever dream we'd miss the mornings in the sun
The playgrounds and the streets
The bliss of slumber-land
Boy we're family, no matter what they say
But boys are meant to flee
And run away, one day When the golden age is over
Oh the golden age is over
But the golden age is over
The golden age is over
