Rest in the Light

Anna Gilbert

Rest In The Light

Sent to a broken world needing a Savior
Ridding all fear and doubt
One little manger
Held all the answers for those who would seek tonight

Chorus
He laid down His life for us
Born here to die for us
Truth that was given in life at His birth
Truth that was promised the earth
He would lay down His life for us
Born just to die for us
So we could be whole
We could be whole again.

Angels and men still sing creation praises
Wonderful love and peace
It can still change us
Gathering weary and hungry before hits the road

Bridge
Come rest in the Light
Come rest in the Light
Come rest in the Light of the world
Calling all, calling us close (Repeat)

You laid down Your life for us
Born just to die for us
Truth that was given in life at Your birth
Truth that was promised the earth
You would lay down Your life for us

Born here to die for us
So we could be whole
We could be whole again

(There are a couple phrases I couldn't quite understand)
