Mansions on the Moon

I am the bird locked in your cage
I am the bug trapped in your jar
I am the fish swimming in your tankI am the fly inside your car
I am a dog tied to a tree
I am a prisoner in chains
I have lost my sanity tied to a bedpost with restraintsLet your body float to the surface
I can pretend that I'm dead
I can say that I have livedI am the question you won't ask
I am the last thing on your mind
I am the ghost left in your past I am the treasure you won't findI sing the song stuck in your head yet you still take away my breath I am in the ghost under your bed yet my heart beats inside my chestYou don't have to say goodbye promise me you'll ask them why
