

Sing C'est la Vie

Sonny & Cher

Sing C'est La Vie
And soon you will see
Your cares will be free
Just sing C'est La Vie I once knew a man
Who owned a butcher shop
He also had apartments
To rent up on top But he didn't include on the sign
That he painted, "No pets"
And the tenant who rented
Had six hungry dogs he regrets But he said, "When things go wrong
Just sing this song
The birds in the trees
Will sing harmony" Sing C'est La Vie
And soon you will see
Your cares will be free
Just sing C'est La Vie If you think the old women
Who lived in the shoe had it bad
The story of Mrs. Pierre
Is ten times as sad Poor woman with twenty-two children
A duck and two goats in the bin
She was gaily informed by a doctor
That she is having twins But she said, "When things go wrong
Just sing this song
The birds in the trees
Will sing harmony" Sing C'est La Vie
And soon you will see
Your cares will be free
Just sing C'est La Vie And have I mention to you the worst one of all
The night a mayor and his wife
Had their annual ball
I remember the speeches He makes after dinner
Became quite renowned
But this time he sneezed when he spoke
And his pants, they fell down But they said, "When things go wrong
Just sing this song
The birds in the trees
Will sing harmony" Sing C'est La Vie
And soon you will see
Your cares will be free

Just sing C'est La VieC'est La Vie

Songwriters

Sonny Bono;Charles Greene;Brian StonePublished by

CHRIS-MARC MUSIC;COTILLION MUSIC, INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.

Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>