Listening In

The Undertones

I was sitting on my own
No one rang till I picked up the phone
Then I heard your voice
I was listening inYou were talking in the hall
I wasn't there but I heard it all
Nothing I could do
Just listening in, listening inOn the carpet you're so small
Who had you covered wall to wall
Nothing I could do
Just listening in, listening inNow you're gone any your line's dead
Nothing I can do instead
No more, no more
No more listening in, listening in
