

Hell=Other People

Bettie Serveert

You say your life's a total waste
You told me on the fire escape
Just before you bummed a cigaretteWell, youve always been a high live-wire
Never straight, but so inspired
It kills me when I see you so upsetYoure telling everyone
That Im the stubborn one
But guess who broke the spellHell is other people
To hell with other peopleNot a word from you in days
I guess its just your faucet ways
Running hot and cold and back againBut its hard to keep an open mind
When you keep changing all the time
Suddenly 'receiving', not 'to send'Its always live and learn
But Im the one whos turned
But guess who broke the spellHell is other people
To hell with other peopleYoure a 5 on Saffir-Simpsons scale
Sharper than a broken nail
Im glad Im still alive to tell the taleHell is other people
To hell with other people
Hell is other people
To hell with other peopleHell is other people
To hell with other people
Hell is other people
To hell with other peopleHell is other people
