Battles

DNKL

through this night
you're warmer than fire in every streetlight reminder in every tunnel we pass a flash and we start to remember who we were when we were young who we turned out to bethrough the theft of our heartbeats through the promises we break through the stars that we aimed for through our years of endeavoryou're warm like fire a last reminder in every border we cross
a flash and
all the dreams we deserted all the battles we fight will you carry me high
