Pulley

I don't care too much about anything anymore
There's no difference between wrong and right
I'm tired of living life out of spiteI don't care too much about anything anymore
I've been here for too long
It's this change I can't go through
You are better off without me, aren't you?
Aren't you?I've lost my faith in finding humanity
For every girl that ever broke my heart
For every fucked up friend that played that partI have lost my faith in finding humanity
Compassion isn't enough for all that I can do
You're better off without me, aren't you?
Aren't you?I've been here for too long
It's this change I can't go through
You're better without me, aren't you?
Aren't you?
