

Anything Goes

Dakota Staton

In olden days a glimpse of stocking
Was looked on as something shocking
    But now God knows
        Anything goes

    Good authors to
        Who once knew better words
            Now only use four letter words
                Writing prose
                    Anything goes

If driving fast cars you like
    If low bars you like
        If old hymns you like
            If bare limbs you like
                If Mae West you like
                    Or me undressed you like
                        Why nobody will oppose

    When every night
        The set that's smart
            Is intruding on nudist parties
                In studios
                    Anything goes

When Mrs. Ned McClean God bless her
    Can get Russian reds to yes her
        Than I suppose
            Anything goes

    When Rockafeller still can hoard
        Enough money to let Max Gordon
            Produce his shows
                Anything goes

The world has gone mad today
    And good's bad today
        And black's white today
            And days night today
                And that gent today

You gave a cent today
Once owned several chateaux

When folks
Who still can ride in Jitney's
Find out Vanderbilts and Whitney's
Lack baby clo'es
Anything goes
