Somehow Precious

Stratovarius

Yesterday seems so far away
Some projection in a dream
Sweaty sheets, I am back to reality
I woke up to my own scream
All the bad things that were said
Will not leave me be
I need to get them out of my headWhat have I said, what have I done
Can I have another chance
Where has it led, no one has won
Give me a glance, don't deny
That I am somehow precious to youAnd today I still feel the same
Even though you are so near
I try to talk,
My lips are whispering out your name
But the words just seem to disappear
All the bad things that are said
Will not leave me be
Once again I am all alone in my bedWhat have I said, what have I done
Can I have another chance
Where has it led, no one has won
Give me a glance, don't deny
That I am somehow precious to you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/