

The Sun Tells the Moon

The Snake the Cross the Crown

no, don't want the world yeah, cause you'll wanna have everything and don't say that you're just a little more deserving of this or of that yeah, cause we've all got needs but I know you feel trapped. yeah, but we all got gravityoh no, we're lost, the stars they just stare yeah, and it's driving me crazy the planets don't care yeah, they prefer they didn't know me cause I'm just a meansyeah, they all want ends and the comets just sing you can even hear them comingwe sing the saddest songs cause we don't know what we want we want more and want it cause we're scared to say itwe are the children's lips thirsty for just a glimpse of what is right and wrong because we can't accept our lives.so the sun tells the moon
"yeah you should've been a star" the reply is a tune oh but the sun just stops saying "oh that's so sad but im glad I heard it you moons arent so bad" and they just kept on spinning.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>