

The Home We Made Pt. II

Crywolf

[Maigan Kennedy]
Don't stand again
Don't stand again
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves[Crywolf]
I hear your footsteps in the hallway
Your presence won't leave this place
This house has worlds inside it's walls
In the back room, on the last night
I heard you crying for life
The smoke was pouring through the halls[Maigan]
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
This house has worlds inside it's walls
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
The smoke was pouring through the halls
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
But they shot us downAnd I thought maybe we could save ourselves
Don't stand again[Crywolf]
They're coming up slow
We're falling quickly
Your hand's in mine, but it's slipping day by day
Love, there is violence in this fall
I hear your whispers fading further
You touch my hand,
You see how all my broken pieces are painted on the walls[Maigan]
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
This house has worlds inside it's walls
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
The smoke was pouring through the halls
And I thought maybe we could save ourselves
But they shot us down
They shot us down
