Another Chance

Paul Banks

I know I made a mistake, okay?
Sometimes people fuck up
And then you'll have to give them another chance,
So that they can change
And become a better person.
I have a neurological condition, don't you get that?
There's something wrong with my brain.I don't even remember any of it,
She's just a stupid girl I met at the bar,
Not even what I wanted.I have a neurological condition, don't you get that?There's something wrong with my brain.Sometimes people fuck up, sometimes
And then you give them another chance,
So that they can change
And become a better person.There's something wrong with my brain,
Don't you get that?So that they can change
And become a better person.I have a neurological condition,
Don't you get that?There's something wrong with my brain.I have no control of the way alcohol affects me,
Makes me lose control.
And it's not fair of you to hold that against me.It makes me lose control.Sometimes people fuck up
And then you have to give them another chance
So that they can change and become a better person.They can change
I have a neurological condition, don't you get that?
There's something wrong with my brain.There's something wrong with my brain.
I don't even remember any of it.
There's something wrong with my brain, don't you get that?There's something wrong with my brain,
There's something wrong with my brain,
There's something wrong with my brain,
Don't you get that?
There's something wrong with my brain.
