Amnesia

Skinny Puppy

for reasons untold born a body mass no excuse for intolerable kick set in glass grasp a moment shattereda lock on the door scraping demon trapped resides starving for freedom all my strength to keep insidetear it downif I could move heaven or hell I wouldto summon heads rush all perception void and meaningless anti fathoms life in spite of it negate all feeling fractured mocked deplore naming reverse remote viewing empathic lesion surrounding the guilt cannot denytear it down a process to describe whatever truth means nothingwhen adding no results times a shallow digging through the mud thrown out so expectable intentions not up front and the shit that never faced reflects the sliver looped a flaw rotates forever unresolvedtear it down
