In the Name

Fool's Garden

(Hinkel / Freudenthaler)She's a good girl, Daddy loves her,
she's obeying
pretty soon Daddy told her
wondrous stories
very softly
salty moonIs anybody out there?
Can anybody hear her cry?
Any saviour?
Does anybody know just why god has left her
on this long, long way?
She's afraid to hear him say:
"COME"She's a good ball, Daddy's playing
very charily
with her hands
Many pictures
in the diary
of a small girl
and a manIs anybody out there?
Can anybody hear her cry?
Any saviour?
Bloody bastard, why?
God has left her
on this long, long way, She's a good girl
hundred million miles awayIt's in the name, the name
Jamie's been abandoned
now she's riding on a train It's in the name,
the name - of love
Father don't you leave her when you take her home againShe's a good girl, Daddy loves her
and he knows that he's the one to redeem his little puppet, Daddy's work is nearly doneThere isn't any god in heaven and no religion too He's the only saviour

and he knows that he's the one to do it while she's imploring:
"Don't you hear me?"It's in the name,
the name
Jamie's been abandoned
now she's riding on a train
the name - of love
Father don't you leave her when you take her home again
