Scale

Melcheor

I have a sequin for an eye
Pick a rose and hide my face
This is a bandit's life, it comes and goes
And then's the breaks
Under a molten sky, beyond the road
We lie in wait
You think they know us now?
Wait 'til the stars come out, you'll see that
Well, I made you and now I take you back
It's too late but today I can define the lack
I made you and now I take you back
Son, you sleep in clouds of fire
That's all and that's right

My son, you sleep in clouds of fire
That's all and that's right
I can still feel it when you lie
Pick a rose just to hide my face
Well, if there's something I should know
I seek no science when there is no shade
Under a molten sky, let the days collide
Well, I made you and now I take you back
Son, you sleep in clouds of fire
That's all and that's right
My son, you sleep in clouds of fire
That's all and that's right

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/