

Trying to Drive

Zac Brown Band

You know I'm not right
If I'm not right with you
And no one can make me feel like you do
I'll be the one that laid my heart down on the line
So come and save me darling
Love me one more 'Cause you're not always right
And I'm not always wrong
It's not like I don't try
This is where we belong
One way, everything's gonna be away
But darling I'm on your side
'Cause it's one wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
We're both trying to drive
We're both trying to drive
You might be right
And I'm out of touch
I guess everything I have to give
Just ain't enough
I'm trying to make the most
I know what it's not
'Cause darling I can give you something I got 'Cause you're not always right
I'm not always wrong
It's not like I don't try
This is where we belong
One way, everything's gonna be away
But darling I'm on your side
One wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
We're both trying to drive
I can feel it under my seat
On the sideline of my life
Watch the rain fall to the ground
To the beat of the same old fight Every song is brewing this war
When we find ourselves In the mix of it, give a little bit
And we'll fly fly, fly One way, everything's gonna be away
But darling, darling I'm on your side
One wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?

One wheel, four hands, two hearts trying to understand
How we gonna to get there?
We're both trying to drive
Trying to drive
Drive
