Breathe

No One

I've tried to see the side a part of life we cannot hide although it's fact we still denyAnd my eyes are wide in disbelief of what I see it just don't seem real to meFacing internal strife pacing the walk of life withering with the breeze holding on to memories burning it in my mind veracities of mankind the limits beyond what you percieve your soul's alive but does it breathe!I lie with greiving sighs questions running through my mind answers lagging far behind my mind is tired of trying to see beyond what man can see can I face realitySearching my head for a truth yet unsaid I brace every breath as I lie in my bed the bleeding I hide from this torn heart inside where do I go when we cross the other sideBlack is my fear, faith my despair wake me, will you wake me when the end is near?Can you see the way the game you play is not for keeps clear as glass but hard to see your manifested destiny

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/