If I Could See You

Iced Earth

Where can I turn?
You've gone away
I grieve in silence
So much I've learned to life today
Still I need your guidanceYou always found words to say
To ease my troubled mind.
Now you're gone.
I feel alone.
If I could see you one more time
If I could see you now
You'd help me find my way
If I could see you now
You'd help me find my wayWhere can I turn?
You've gone away
I need your words of wisdom
Sometimes I'm lost and in the rage
Taking things for grantedYou were the one who did believe
When no one else could see
If I could share what's on my mind
If I could see you one last timeIf I could see you now
You'd help me find my way
If I could see you now
You'd help me find my way
If I could see you now
You'd help me find my way
I'll find the strength somehow
I'll fight to seize the day
