Parachute

Tone Damli Aaberge

People look so small form up above
But the closer I get it starts to unfold
I'm getting closer, and it feels alright
I'm diving deeper, into your eyes

And I would do my best not to crash
So crazy how i know you got my back
I'm leaning forward, I'll take the lead
I said a second, ten thousand feet

As I'm calling form afar
Diving faster than a shooting star
I'm falling hard right into your arms
I know that you will break my fall
And it feels so good, knowing that you
Will be my parachute

All is blue, but when i close my eyes
I discover fears that's hidden deep inside
I wanna go back, but it's too late
Unless the wind will change
It'll slow my pains

As I'm calling form afar
Diving faster than a shooting star
I'm falling hard right into your arms
I know that you will break my fall
And it feels so good, knowing that you
Will be my parachute

I'm never scared of flying
This time i feel like dying
I'm almost there
I'm getting close
I travel far
Just to get on to you, you oh

As I'm calling form afar
Diving faster than a shooting star
I'm falling hard right into your arms

I know that you will break my fall
And it feels so good, knowing that you
Will be my parachute

As I'm calling form afar
Diving faster than a shooting star
I'm falling hard right into your arms
I know that you will break my fall
And it feels so good, knowing that you
Will be my parachute
