

Blur

We Came As Romans

I always saw you as something else
It looks like my eyes played a trick on themselves
But I galaxy it in misguided shade
May erase the image of the life we made I was set on you, when you had to shift Mistakenly you had your flaws burned in
And it covers me 'till I fade to black
Unraveling the film of the life we had You black light was too bright but now I can see Oh, I feel over exposed
I picked your lens perfect but now it's just a blur
You got me feelin' like oh, oh oh, oh oh, so over exposed
I picked you light perfect but now I know
That I don't focus, 'cause your just a blur You always saw me as something less
The trust that you had, snapped in a flash
'Cause the galaxy done the filter fade
They remove me from the center of the frame So I let it go, and we both moved on
There was no contrast, just black and white
Now we leave our past, capped up in stores
Just a photograph with the edges worn Oh, I feel over exposed
I picked your lens perfect but now it's just a blur
You got me feelin' like oh, oh oh, oh oh, so over exposed
I picked you light perfect but now I know
That I don't focus, 'cause your just a blur Oh, I feel over exposed
I picked your lens perfect but now it's just a blur
You got me feelin like oh, oh oh, oh oh, so over exposed
I picked you light perfect but now I know
That I don't focus, 'cause your just a blur
'Cause your just, 'cause your just, 'cause your just a blur
'Cause your just, 'cause your just, 'cause your just a blur You got me feelin like oh, oh oh, oh oh, so over exposed
I picked you light perfect but now I know
That I don't focus, 'cause your just a blur
