

Don't Look Back

The Simpson Family

Well, the Bible tells a story. I'm sure you've all heard of Sodom and Gomorrah, and how God gave Lot his word. That He would spare his family from the awful day of wrath if they would flee that wicked city. Don't look back!

Now the Lord had sent two angels to take Lot's family away from that destruction that the town was gonna see. They said don't look behind you as you leave this dreaded place, but that request turned to be more than Lot's wife could take. She couldn't bear to turn her back on all those things she had. So she traded off a lifetime for a memory that didn't last!

Don't look back! It ain't worth what you'll be paying. There's nothing that you're gonna find back there worth taking. Keep moving on, my friend. Forget about where you've been. Learn to listen. Leave behind the past. Don't look back!

Now God's children must be careful as they live from day to day. 'Cause the Devil'll have you looking back and heading the other way. All those memories from the old life aren't easy to forget, and before you know they'll have you making choices you'll regret. Just remember all the damage just one look can do. If you wanna keep moving forward, you better make sure that you...

Don't look back! It ain't worth what you'll be paying. There's nothing that you're gonna find back there worth taking. Keep moving on, my friend. Forget about where you've been. Learn to listen. Don't look back! Keep moving on my friend. Forget about where you've been. Learn to listen. Learn to listen. Learn to listen. Leave behind the past. Don't look back!
