

Unlikely (stay With Me)

Celldweller

sick of this mind and the games it plays mental enemies want to push me back again here they come running wanting me up on that tree crucified (wait a minute) whatever words they say (me who said it) whomever they betray (me who did it) whenever they're awake it makes me die there's so much on my mind we're given so little time there's no way to hold on as it passes by so lead me into denial help me forget for awhile stay with me, please don't go don't want to, be alone stay with me, please i don't have much else to say (unlikely) i'd rather you go away (unlikely) i don't need something from you (unlikely) though some say i will heal over time, it doesn't seem too likely

it seems unlikely
