

Before I Go

Daniel Norgren

well I cant stop thinking, about the dump that took my heart nevermind the shackle, a long way from these parts always moving, trying to cross this pathI know it's there somewhere, like a diamond in the grassTake me back, just once before I gothere was old ms. glast, and a barman without hands and the king kong brothers, and bullets buried in the sand jukebox julia, who reached up to your knees she had a bird, in the space between her teethTake me back, just once before I goWell the moon is dazzling, in the old and lonesome sky And I've been leaning, on this windowsill all night If I would ask you, to light up my way will I end up lost again, followed by the day Take me back, just once before I go
Take me back, just once before I go
