Nothing Is Innocent

Over the Rhine

Wed wake the dead with the voices in our head Weve gotten used to ignoring the truth We close our eyes and breathe and eat the lies That tell us were so much better than youSilence is loud Humility is so proud Nothing is innocent nowAll the kings men will serve scrambled eggs again When white washed walls come on crashing down Well blink and nod and say, how odd And wonder why old friends dont come aroundSilence is loud Humility is so proud Nothing is innocent nowThe acid rain, we fear the pain Will blister and burn the skin But what is more, the fear we bore Will eat us alive from withinSilence is loud Humility is so proud Nothing is innocent nowFor you and me, yeah In the land of the free Nothing is innocent now Nothing is innocent now Nothing is innocent now
