

My Swagger Has A First Name

Destroy Rebuild Until God Shows

Failure!

Give up, don't try at all anymore.

Your weakness. Manipulate no more. This is the last time.

Write off, and away with discerning mental love affairs

I'd rather stick with any number of these played-out fairy tales, and moments of your yellow shinning

Spending your time hating in hiding

Making up the reasons why

The light you seen, the public eye

When everything you try, well it's never good enough

[Chorus x2]

Oh!

These friends die easy

Oh!

Just disappear

Oh!

Well, my best friend I knew these lies would end up here

If I can tell you any and everything don't ask, just tell it like I should

Like I know you never could, and moments come out of hiding spilling weakness, true colors shinning

The dark you see, the reason why you fail at everything you try

When everything you are, well it's not good enough

[Chours x2]

Stay gone. And I won't even say goodbye.
