Flower

David Garza

You're my little flower, flower, flower
I remember when you were in my hands
Time falls like a shower when I see you flowerThere's a place where grace will take me to you
I'll breathe through you
Under life you'll find me waiting for this
Pain to end with your kissStay another hour flower, flower
Bloom under the light of the moon tonight
The only thing I'm sure is you're my little flowerSomeday you will fade, only to blossom
Wanting, haunting
Long after your petals die and crumble
You're still the one I call my little flowerYou're my little flower, flower, flower
Closer come be near winter's almost here
Time falls like a shower, it's now or never, flower, flower
