

Your Battlefield

Susie Suh

Someday I'll ask you if I was a disappointment
And I will ask you if you put your hard-earned money into a bad investment
You will tell me there are no guarantees, but you got solutions for security
And I will ask you I would ask you how about my dreams

Would you, say life is a battlefield, would you have given me the arms, you say I have to fight, I have to keep moving on

Someday I will ask myself if I was disillusioned,
And I will ask myself if I have proven, that I made it on my own terms Yeah I may have suffered some burns but I am living my dreams and I am who I want to be

Would you say life is a battlefield, would you have given me the arms, you say I have to fight, I have to keep
moving on

On this path that you've tread, on this path that is yours
Well I have to say, I have to say I have to say, that I can't fight your war
I can't fight your war

Would you say life is a battlefield, would you have given me the arms, you say I have to fight, I have to keep
moving on

This is your battlefield, this is the life that you're asking for This is my love that you wanted and more

Would you say life is a battlefield, would you have given me the arms, you say I have to fight, I have to keep
moving on

This is your battlefield, this is your this is your battlefield, you say I have to fight I have to keep moving on

Lyrics submitted by Roxy.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>