

Hollywood

JoJo

I'm attracted to his glitz and his glamour, I'm attracted to the lights in his eyes
And once you get a taste of his poison, you'll get all wrapped up in his lies
    You don't have to give in and fall for nothing
    Even if you were to feel that you were through
    You're an angel that's casted out from heaven
    It's sad but true and makes me wonder why
    It's over, said and done
    Looks like they found themselves a new one
    And just like that a star is born
It makes me wonder Hollywood, Hollywood, do you have a heart at all?
    And is it real? Just let me know
    Hollywood, Hollywood, do you give a shit at all?
    And do you feel what people feel?
'Cause there's a one in a million chance you'll make it big someday
    Don't sell your soul to have what someone had yesterday
Oh, Hollywood Mother always told me, "Jo, be careful, everything that glitters ain't gold"
"Don't fall in love with a promising man because he'll just use you and leave you for broke"
    So you signed your name on the line, don't read the fine print
    Thinking you'll blow up over night, night
    Gave the world, but your wings, you lost them
Drowning in the tears that you cry and that's why
    It's over, said and done
    Looks like they found themselves a new one
    And just like that a star is born
It makes me wonder Hollywood, Hollywood, do you have a heart at all?
    And is it real? Just let me know
    Hollywood, Hollywood, do you give a shit at all?
    And do you feel what people feel?
'Cause there's a one in a million chance you'll make it big someday
    Don't sell your soul to have what someone had yesterday
        Hollywood
Oh, Hollywood We're living in a place of tinsel and wear
    Everything is fake, faded and worn
    Relying on your looks can only take you so far
    But even then you got girls chasing dollar bills
    And left looking for a thrill
It's not real 'cause in time it will all disappear
Hollywood, Hollywood, do you have a heart at all?
    And is it real? Just let me know
    Hollywood, Hollywood, do you give a shit at all?
    And do you feel what people feel?

'Cause there's a one in a million chance you'll make it big someday

Don't sell your soul to have what someone had yesterday

Oh, HollywoodNot alone

Not alone

I'm not alone

I'm not alone

I'm not alone

Oh, I'm all alone
