The World Outside

Eyes Set to Kill

Isn't this nice? My own worst enemy taking control of things
Now is the time, this is the melody, this is the symphony
Now hear my cry, there's no words beneath
There's no in between, there's no alibi to make this right
No behind the scenes, everything you sees what you get

Don't fight the world outside
It's changing me, changing me
To whom I'm afraid of
I can't confide in anything
The crowd will not rest tonight

If you look twice
The second time you might fail to recognize
Look through my eyes
Maybe a part of the old me is left inside

Now hear my cry, there's no words beneath
There's no in between, there's no alibi to make this right
No behind the scenes, everything you sees what you get

Don't fight the world outside
It's changing me, changing me
To whom I'm afraid of
I can't confide in anything
The crowd will not rest tonight, the crowd will not rest tonight

Finally I can hold the key, but the clock is still ticking, clock is still ticking
I can't see
What does all this mean when the lock is still missing, lock is still missing

Finally I can hold the key, but the clock is still ticking, clock is still ticking
I can't see
What does all this mean when the lock is still missing?

The world outside
It's changing me, changing me
To whom I'm afraid of
I can't confide in anything

The crowd will not rest tonight

The world outside
It's changing me, changing me
To whom I'm afraid of
I can't confide in anything
The crowd will not rest tonight, the crowd will not rest tonight
